The native text project is always implemented in cooperation with the customer, utilizing the expertise of our editorial team. The attention value of native text articles is good, and they gain visibility on many different channels and reach the target audience better and more comprehensively.

The published material of the native text article is always approved by the subscriber. The article is laid out in our printed magazine as agreed, for example according to the client company's own graphic image.

The subscriber also gets the produced texts, photos and videos for his own free use.

Guaranteed visibility in an effective way

Case – Leica Geosystems Oy

"We produced three videos and two text articles with Konepörssi. We are very satisfied with the final result - videos and articles enable an efficient way to offer our customers interesting content and to increase visibility and recognition on different channels.

I highly recommend this solution to all companies that want to reach and engage their target group in multi-channel marketing environment."

Filippa Savolainen, marketing manager, Leica Geosystems Oy

Case – VM Tarm/Kuljetus Tero Liukas Oy

"Konepörssi produced a magazine article and a presentation video about the VM Tarm slurry driving equipment we use. Despite the long schedule adjustment, (the slurry spreading event was dependent on the farmers' schedule and weather conditions) the production was finalized successfully.

A short video clip about the matter gathered hundreds of thousands of viewers at a fast pace in Konepörssi's Facebook page. In a month we had more than 650,000 views. I can honestly say that the visibility is guaranteed with Konepörssi."
